Mrs. A. D. Landerkin is leaving town to-day to spend the month of October in the far South. Mrs. Landerkin will go at once to New Orleans, from which go at once to New Orleans, from which city she will leave for the plantation of her sister, Mrs. George Judice, in Western Louisiana, where she will re-main for the next several weeks. Richmond German Club Meeting.

Richmond German Club Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Richmond German Club will be held to-night at 5:30 o'clock at the Westmoreland Club. The meeting is for the purpose of electing others, members of the board and a few additional members from the waiting list. It is probable that the date of the first "Monday," the first formal society function of the winter, will be decided upon at this meeting, and much interesting comment is being made as to the new members who will be elected.

Newport News, Va., October 3.—Moeting in special session, the Board of Aldermen to-night concurred in the action of the Common Council in awarding the contract for the construction of the proposed municipal basin in Newport News Creek, and of the new municipal dock at the mouth of the harbor. The combined contracts aggregate $132,000, Mayor Semmes, City Attorney Massle and City Clerk Hudgins will immediately enter into contracts with the successful bidders for the work, and the actual digging of the basin is expected to be started next month.

As approved by the Council, the harbor will be $2,600 feet long and 400 feet wide, with more than a mile of frontage for quaye and docks. The city has bought up more than 100 acres of land around the basin for a factory and around the bas

It is obvious that if Lord Henry were a fugitive from justice, as asserted in these cable dispatches, that lice for his arrest on criminal charges, he would not be this day a member of his sovereign's Privy Council, as such invested with all sorts of prerogatives, including a privileged position at court, and the official prefix of "Right Honorable" to his name.

It is perfectly true that Lord Henry,

It was quite as much on the strength of this independent investigation of Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, as upon the verdict of the divorce court that Queen Victoria retained Lord Henry as a member of her Privy Council and continued her favor and good will to him until the end of her reign. Lord Henry is the composer of some very popular songs, familiar wherever the English language is spoken, such as "Where'er You Go," "Hush Me, O Sorrow," "Sympathy," "Dawn," "A Song of Hope," etc. It is said in the dispatch that Lord and Lady Henry are about to become reconciled. But any one who knows ord Henry will have difficulty in believing this, since his wife's offense against him is one of those which are beyond the reach of pardon. Should anything untoward happen to his thirteen-year-old nephew, the young Marquis of Worcester, Lord Henry would on his elder brother's death become tenth Duke of Beaufort. Somerset. His only son, Henry Charles Somers Somerset, received his education at Harvard, and is married to Lady Catherine Beauclerk, half-sister of the present Duke of St. Albans. Lady Henry Somerset, as every one knows, is the elder daughter and coarl Somers, her younger sister being the widowed Adeline, Duchess of Bed-ford, who is now traveling in Canada. The duchess has recently come into the limelight in connection with her championship of the imprisoned Royal-ists at Lisbon, having originated a crusade against the present Portuguese government for the cruelties to which its captives are being subjected in fail Portuguese government has nied the allegations, insisting that the duchess is not in her right mind. The duchess is an expert on the subject of penal institutions, and has con-tributed in no small degree to ameliorate the condition of the inmates of the women's prisons in Great Britain. Lady Henry Somerset is one of the principal women public speakers in England, and is the pioneer of the wo-man's suffrage cause, although she has held aloof from its militant develop ments. Her principal activity, how ever of a public character has been in the cause of temperance,

The tallest man of her army is a colossus, who stands no less than six foot eight in his stockinged feet, being broad and stalwart in proportion, and the grand duchess has directed that every effort shall be made to recruit other men of as near as possible the same stature. Foreigners are eligible; and, as the pay is extremely liberal, the treatment excellent, the uniform most becoming and the likelihood of real fighting extremely remote, I would recommend any very tall men who want an easy job, to apply for service at Luxemburg. As Luxemburg is never likely to be at war with this country, I do not suppose that in making this suggestion 1 am violating any provision of the so-called foreign enlistment

At the head of each item is the name and date of paper clipped from, this information having been put in with a book typewriter. The words thus inserted amount to 153,252.

In actual time, a very strict record of which has been kept, the work has required sixty-four working days throughout the year, and has kept in employment during that time thirty people as readers, clippers, sorters, mounters and binders. Every newspaper of importance is represented.

This is merely a specimen of some of the unique orders which get into the Burrelle Burcau, for the extent to which clippings are used by individuals and by business concerns seems to be remarkable.
